

Pre AP/Honors English II Composition and Literature (Grade 10)

This course is the second in the sequence leading to Advanced Placement English IV and is recommended for students who have been successful in Pre-AP English I and are reading significantly above grade level.

Emphasis will be placed on close reading and analysis of works from World literature, as well as non-fiction texts. Students will cultivate more advanced literary techniques with the aim of increasing the sophistication of their reading and comprehension. Required writing assignments, including an in-depth research project, will develop and improve critical thinking and composition skills. Students are expected to complete summer reading assignments prior to the first day of class. Assignment instructions may be obtained from Pre AP English teachers in May or from the main administrative office during the summer. Those students new to the district will be given guidelines for summer reading make-up by instructor when course starts in the fall semester

Course ID# = ENG2-HN-Y

(This course meets 1 of 4 needed English Graduation Credit Requirements)